Professor Lee graduated from Seoul National University with a Bachelor's in Electrical Engineering in 1999. She then completed her master's and doctoral degrees in Electrical Engineering at Stanford in 2004. After serving as a professor at UCLA, she has been a joint professor in Neurology, Neuroscience, Bioengineering, Neurosurgery, and Electrical Engineering at Stanford University since 2012. Unsatisfied with merely achieving research results in the lab, she founded the Silicon Valley-based startup "LVIS" in 2015, focusing on the diagnosis and treatment of brain diseases, simultaneously pursuing research and commercialization.
